Canadianvisa.org Privacy Policy

At Canadianvisa.org we are committed to protect and respect your privacy in compliance with the EU GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) version 25/05/2018.

Our privacy policy explains:
- Who we are;
- When and why we collect your data;
- How we collect information;
- About cookies;
- About beacons;
- About email disclaimers;
- How to delete, suspend or unsubscribe from your account;
- Right to restrict processing;
- Right to object;
- Make changes to your data;
- How to request your personal data;
- How to transfer your data;
- Collection of personal information;
- What type of information is collected;
- How we protect your personal information; and
- Breaches in security

Our Privacy Policy applies to all our services and sales offered in Canadianvisa.org, it also includes those who are looking for employment in our company.

Who we are

Canadianvisa.org is a private immigration agency that is not affiliated with the Canadian government. When our clients sign up, an Account Manager will call them to provide them with a quote for our paid immigration services. Our company headquarters are located in 1066 West Hastings st, Vancouver, BC V6E 3X2, British Columbia, Canada. Our is owned and operated by Maple Solutions OÜ. Roosikrantsi tn 2 Kesklinna linnaosa, Tallinn Harju maakond 10119, Estonia Should you have any queries about your information, please contact: csr@canadianvisa.org

When do we collect personal data about you?

When you:
- Sign up with us;
- Interact with us either in person, or via:
  - Phone calls;
  - Messages;
  - Emails;
  - Our website and social media platforms; and
  - Cookies;
    - Please note that you can change your settings on your computer to reject cookies, but this may change how Canadianvisa.org services function.

We can only share your data with third party sources like business partners or sponsors, if you give us your express consent.

Why do we collect and use personal data

Below is a list of why we collect data, these may include:
- Marketing communications which you have requested on our sign up pages or from your updated profile, this includes information about Canadianvisa.org’s:
  - Products and services;
  - Events and promotions;
  - Activities;
  - Promotions of our associated partners’ services. Please note these marketing communications are subscription based and require your consent; and/or
  - Products and services that you have purchased from us
- Perform direct sales based on a reply to a ‘Contact me’ or other web forms that were completed on one of our Canadianvisa.org sites or emails;
- Provide access and services related to our Evaluations, IELTS or Canadian Visa Applications.
- Provide access to our Customer Support portal when you request assistance;
- Perform contractual obligations like:
  - Order confirmations;
  - Invoices;
  - Reminders;
  - Notifications about any disruptions to our services; and/or
  - Process a job application
- Follow ups on incoming requests from:
  - Customer support;
  - Emails;
  - Chats; and/or
  - Phone calls
- Direct marketing;
• Help resolve any disputes, collecting fees, and carrying out troubleshooting activities;
• Improve our services and website; and
• Conduct surveys for the purpose of market research

We also collect data about:
• Suppliers;
• Subcontractors;
• Sponsors;
• Partners; and
• Persons seeking a job or working in our company

How long do we keep your personal data?
Canadianvisa.org stores your personal data for up to 7 years, in order to fulfil its purpose. How long your data is stored depends on:
• How long it takes to answer your queries;
• Resolve any issues;
• Comply with legal requirements under applicable law systems; and/or
• Resolve any legal claims and/or complaints

Your data will be stored for a reasonable amount of time after your last interaction with our company. When your personal data is no longer required, it shall be deleted in a secure manner. If we process your data for statistical purposes, all data provided will be anonymous.

How do we collect information
We collect information through several different ways. One of these ways is through cookies and beacons.

What is a cookie?
Cookies are little pieces of data that are stored by your browsers when you go on any website. A cookie helps your browser to remember if you have visited a website before, for example entering in login details or faster loading speeds when you reopen the tab. If you don’t want cookies to be enabled, you can specify in your browser to disable them.

How to disable cookies
Depending on what device you use to browse on the internet, you can specify that you want to stop “Cookie Tracking”. Here is how to disable cookies on different browsers
When I disable cookies will I still get advertisements?

Yes, even when you disable cookies you can still receive advertisements from other sites. The only difference is that any advertisement you see if not based on your personal interest or preference.

About cookies and how we use them

We can only agree to store information if you give us consent to use cookies. Cookies are just a simple way to track what our customers want from our services and products. You will not receive spam or unsolicited information from our company if you accept cookies. The only information we can send you will be if you sign up with our website to receive notifications or if you communicate directly with our company. Even if you agree to allow cookies on your browser, we must still follow our Privacy Policy to ensure that any information we collect has a purpose of intent and is legally gathered. We need your consent before we can use any information that is not under the new EU GDPR act of 25/05/18.

Why do we use cookies

- To view how our users interact on our pages;
- To track certain demographics about our users that are relevant for market research purposes;
- To display appropriate content that users have expressed an interest in; and
- To collect information about users reactions to certain adverts. This is also done through the use of Atlas pixel to help measure conversion rates and help us market to the right users

When do cookies not need consent to collect information

A cookie does not need consent if it is used to:
- Communicate with our company; or
- Provide a service or product;
- Transfer information needed for our services or products;
- If cookies are used to:
  - Track you when you fill on online forms, purchases or track user input;
  - Authenticate you are a legal user that can log into our system;
  - Store technical data with multimedia cookies that allow playbacks from video or other audio formats;
  - Secure user security cookies to ensure that no authentication abuse has occurred;
  - Customize your language preferences or font styles; and
  - Share third party plug in content for those who are logged into our system

How are cookies stored?

There are three ways to store cookies.
• On our web server which helps store cookie data from the webpage you load on either your phone/tablet/computer;
• On an external web server that manages files and stores cookies; and
• On JavaScript code that is referenced on that specific page

How long do we store cookie data?

That depends on a variety of circumstances. We normally stored your information for a set period of time, unless certain circumstances occur, for example legal proceedings or changes in legislature. More information about how long you data is stored is covered in the rest of our Privacy Policy.

What are the different types of cookies?

Cookies can be divided into two different types according to:
• Lifespan; and
• Domain

Lifespan cookies are either:
• A session cookie, which means that when you close your browser the information is removed; and
• A persistent cookie, which means that the cookie data remains on the device you used to go online with

Domain cookies are either;
• First party cookies which are automatically set by the web server and have the same domain; or
• Third party cookies, which are stored on a different domain to the visited webpage

What is a beacon?

A beacon also known as a:
• Web Beacons (‘Website Navigational Information’);
• Web bugs;
• Pixel tags; or
• Clear GIFs

Helps collects data when you interact with a website. The web beacon looks like a transparent graphic image that is normally no larger than a 1x1 pixel. It can be placed on a website or an email to help monitor how a user interacts with a certain page.

Can a beacon track me personally?
No, a Beacon does not identify you or your personal accounts or information. It just helps to show how many people have visited a website over a certain period of time.

What information does a beacon collect?

The Website Navigation Information records information like:
- Browser type;
- Browser language;
- IP address; and
- Your interactions with the website

Why is this information collected?

All information that you give us express consent to collect is used to:
- Research market trends;
- Improve our services, products and website for our users; and
- Discover if there is any suspicious activity on our sites that can harm our user’s security

Can I disable beacons?

No, unlike Cookies, Beacons cannot be disabled. But you can set your browser to decline tracking cookies. Because Cookies work together with Beacons, you can stop Beacons from tracking your browsing history when you disable Cookies. All data collected from disabled cookies will become anonymous, as all the user’s unique information is no longer stored or recorded. Click here to get instructions to disable cookie tracking from your browser.

Disclaimers for emails

Confidentiality

All content within any information communicated between you and our company via email is confidential and intended only for the recipient. Any sharing of this content with a third party must be first approved by the recipient with their express consent. If you receive an email from our company by mistake, please reply to us to confirm this error. Then kindly delete the email from your inbox.

Privacy
You will only receive emails communication through our company if you have expressly specified to. All information that is communicated between you the user and our company will be kept confidential, unless said information is required for the processing of your case. Should your information need to be shared with third parties, your express consent is required in order to continue with your case. If you did not expressly sign up to be part of our mailing list, you can change your account setting to help manage your personal data.

Security

We always aim to ensure that your emails and their attachments are free from viruses. Unfortunately we cannot always ensure that messages are error or virus free, have not been corrupted and/or intercepted by third parties.

Please always ensure that any emails or attachments you receive are scanned with appropriate software. Please note that we do not accept any liability for damages caused by, or inflicted through the sending or receiving of information between the user and our company. Should a breach in your sensitive information occur, you will be contacted within 72 hours of the event by a communication channel you have approved.

Contracts

Any information sent between you the user and our company is not legally binding, until a legal document has been signed. Users can agree or decline our services based on our Term and Conditions and Privacy Policy.

No employee within our company has the right to offer you a legally binding contract without the express permission of their supervising manager.

Delete your account

You have the option to delete your account, should you want to be removed from our information database. You can do this by requesting to have your account deleted. For more details on this process, contact our Privacy Officer at csr@canadianvisa.org.

Suspend my account

If you just wish to suspend your account, you may opt out of receiving contact from us through csr@canadianvisa.org. Your information will be deleted after a set amount of time from our database.
Unsubscribe

If you wish to unsubscribe from our site, you can use any of the unsubscribe links in our contact media, for example:
- emails unsubscribe links; or
- SMS opt outs

If you have any issues unsubscribing, you can contact our Privacy Officer at csr@canadianvisa.org to discontinue your subscription. All your personal information in our database will be stored for a set period of time, before it is permanently deleted from our system.

Right to restrict processing

At any time, from signing up with our website, you have the right to restrict your processing with our company. If you have any trouble with this aspect, please immediately contact us at csr@canadianvisa.org

Only with your express consent can our Account Managers or company contact you via:
- Email;
- Phone call; and/or
- SMS

Any information you store with us will remain in our database for a set period of time, before it is deleted. Your personal information will not be used at any time during this period.

Right to object

This also includes the right to restrict processing as a potential client of Canadianvisa.org. Your information will not be used for direct marketing, if you specify on our sign up section or if you update your account to reflect this.

Make changes to your data

You have the right to make changes to your account for any of the following reasons:
- Legal name change;
- Status or title change (marriage, Doctorate);
- Deleting your account;
- Unsubscribing;
• Suspending your account;
• Updating;
  • Contact details;
  • Personal information; and/or
  • Incorrect information

How to request your personal data

If you make a personal request to access your account information, please send your request to csr@canadianvisa.org. An electronic copy of your data will be provided to you at your request.

You have a right to how your data is used, based on our “Consent Forms”, which are signed during different periods of your interaction with our company. Your express permission is required in order for us to use your information. Please note that any specific changes to our Privacy Policy will be published on our website Canadianvisa.org.

How to transfer your data

Should you choose to transfer your personal data from our server to another service provider, you can request this information from our Privacy Officer at csr@canadianvisa.org This information will be sent to you in a commonly used and machine readable format.

We collect your personal information only with your consent

When you interact with our website or services, there will be a collection of personal data that can only be collected when you give us consent. This information is documented with “Consent Forms”, which allow us to store information that you give us consent to store. All consented information will be stored and documented in our system for 7 years. Please note that this does not apply for public platforms that you have commented, posted or interacted with. Specifically the comment section on our website, and other social media platforms.

We collect personal data from our contracts

Canadianvisa.org collects and uses personal information, when we fulfill our obligations relating to our contracts and/or services for our:
• Customers;
• Partners;
• Subcontractors;
Collecting personal data based on legitimate interest

We will only use your personal information for legitimate interests. This is established through legal data collections, where both Canadianvisa.org and the interested party have come to agreement about the personal data involved. We will always inform individuals about their privacy rights and the purpose of collecting personal data.

What type of personal data is collected?

Canadianvisa.org collects personal data like:

- Names;
- Gender;
- Phone numbers;
- Country of Birth;
- Date of Birth;
- Language preference;
- Email address;
- Employments details like:
  - Employer’s name
  - Job description
  - Years of experience
  - CVs
- Education details like:
  - Level of education;
  - Qualifications;
  - Language abilities in English and French

- Please note we may also collect feedback via:
  - comments and questions received from you in service-related communication through:
    - Meetings;
    - Phone calls;
    - Documents; and/or
    - E-mails
  - We may also collect IP information from our website, emails and other forms of interaction between you and our company;
  - If you upload photos, videos, add posts or comments on our website or social media platforms, this information can be read by anyone with access to the these sites. Therefore, Canadianvisa.org is not responsible for any information you supply on these platforms;
• If you apply for a job at Canadianvisa.org, your data will be collected during the application process for a set period of time.

How do we protect your personal information

Credit details

Any online purchase you make with your credit card is secured through our state of the art Secure Socket Layers (SSL). Canadianvisa.org offers mediators like Paypal and Giropay, as alternative methods of payment. Please note that when any information is transmitted over the Internet, there is always a certain amount of risk.

Personal details

Your personal details are protected through our advanced firewall system. We make sure that your data is protected from:
• Unlawful alterations;
• Destruction; and/or
• Accidental loss

Breach of sensitive data

We try to ensure that any risk to sensitive information is minimalized. Should a breach of sensitive data happen, you will be informed within 72 hours of the event, either through:
• Email;
• SMS;
• Website message; or by
• Phone call

Security on other linked sites

Canadianvisa.org provides links to many different sites. If you click on these links, you will be directed to other websites and/or social media platforms. Please note that these websites have their own privacy protection notices. We advise you to read the notice provided by each of these websites, because they may differ from our own.